THE [Numb. 820.]

MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, January 22, 1761.

MADRID, October 1.

THE Corpſe of her deceaſed Majeſty was interred with the uſual Solemnity, on the 29th, at the Eſcurial. The Affairs of this Monarchy were never in ſuch a Situation as at preſent; our Fleets and our Armies are in the moſt reſpectable Condition, the Minds of People are as ſerene as their Climate; and after all the ſtuities his Majeſty has beſtowed, and the Taxes he has oved, there are Sixty Millions in Gold and Silver in the yal Coffers.

Vienna, October 21. We have ſeen a new Liſt of his Pruſ- Majeſty's Troops, according to which that Monarch actually in the Field 114,000 Men, and 26,000 in Garns; in all 140,000. And by another Liſt we find, that Auſtrian, Ruſſian and Swediſh Armies, the Army of Empire, and the Troops of Wirtemberg, make together ,000 Combatants.

Hague, October 21. We have received the following Parlars of the two Engagements which happened on the er Rhine the 15th and 16th Inſt. between the French ops under the Marquis de Caſtries, and the Allied Troops manded by the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick.

On the 14th the Marquis de Caſtries marched at the Head 32 Battalions, and as many Squadrons. The next Day ent to Rhinberg, where Fiſcher's Corps, which formed Advanced Guard, attacked 1000 or 1200 of the Enemy, occupied that Poſt, and obliged them to abandon it, having killed 180 Men. The Loſs of the French, on Occaſion, did not exceed 40 Men. On the 16th M. de ries marched forward, and meeting with the Allies, manded by the Hereditary Prince, he engaged in a gene- Action. His left Wing at firſt ſuffered conſiderably, and her's Corps loſt a great Number of Men; but ſoon after Engagement took another Turn, and the Regiment of rgne, which performed Wonders, having taken four s of Cannon from the Hanoverians, the latter were de- d, and abandoned the Field of Battle, with one of their es, which 800 French Volunteers took Poſſeſſion of. Affair was very bloody, and it is computed that the on both Sides muſt amount to about 6000 Men. The of the Allies was the more conſiderable, as they were ed a long While by the French Infantry, Sword in d. During the Action, the Marquis de Caſtries was tly wounded, but this did not hinder him from purſuing Enemy. The Engliſh General Holborn was killed upon Spot. On the 17th M. de Caſtries marched again and ed the Allies, who had retreated to the Heights of n, which they were forced to abandon, in order to re- their Bridges, which they did not accompliſh without Trouble and Loſs. We have received Advice, that in Night between the 18th and 19th the Hereditary Prince d the Siege of Weſel, and retired.

Hague, October 21. We have undoubted Intelligence, that French have evacuated the Landgraviate of Heſſe-Caſſel, are marching back towards Frankfort.

We have juſt received Advice by the Hamburgh Mail, the City of Wittemberg continues to make a vigorous nce againſt the Army of the Empire; and that upon the s of the King of Pruſſia's coming towards Berlin with t of his Army, the Auſtrians and Ruſſians evacuated that the 13th Inſtant, after raiſing Contributions in it to the ount of 1,900,000 Crowns. [In the Stile of French n-writers, a Crown is but Three Livres, which anſwers ly to our Half-Crown.]

Hamburgh, October 17. According to Letters from Berlin the 14th of this Month, the Ruſſians and Auſtrians left City the preceding Day; the former are retired by ſſenwald to join their grand Army, which encamps at pen, near Frankfort on the Oder; the others have taken Route of Baruth, and are going probably into Saxony; hat there is no Doubt of the laying Siege to Spandau.

Before their Departure from Berlin, thoſe combined Troops ived 500,000 Crowns, in Part of 1,500,000 demanded the City. The Traders were obliged to deliver to Count ttleben, for the entire Sum, a Bill of Exchange payable in Days, with this Reſerve, that what could be collected in ney during thoſe ſix Days ſhould be accepted, and that the remainder they ſhould furniſh Bills of Exchange in cats, valued at four Florins a Piece, and payable in two nths.

Hague, October 23. Letters from Leipſick bring Advice, at the City of Wittemberg ſurrendered to the combined my of the Empire on the 14th of this Month; and that taking of that Place was of the more Importance, as the heavy Artillery employed by the King of Pruſſia at Siege of Dreſden was found in it.

Nimeguen, October 10. The Allies have burnt the French agazine at Aerſſen.

Paris, October 17. From the Accounts our Court receives m all Parts, the Expectations of Peace decreaſe more and e. The Inactivity of our Army, and the unheard of poſals of our Enemies, induce us to believe that much man Blood muſt ſtill be ſpilt, e'er an End can be put to War. The Report that the Engliſh have ſchemed a ding on the Coaſt of Flanders, has, it is aſſured, occaſi- d a Reſolution of the Court to aſſemble there a Body of or 20,000 Men. The News of the Surrender of Mont- l has occaſioned but little Conſternation here. The Con- t of the Marquis de Vaudreuille, upon this Occaſion, has been applauded; and our Court, notwithſtanding this Loſs, is determined to purſue the Meaſures which have been concerted.

From the LONDON GAZETTE of November 4.

Total Killed, Wounded and Priſoners, of the Troops under the Command of the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, after the Action of October the 16th, near the Convent of Campen.

10 Officers, 16 Non-commiſſioned Officers, and 221 Rank and File, killed. 68 Officers, 43 Non-commiſſioned Officers, and 812 Rank and File, wounded. And 7 Officers, 6 Non-commiſſioned Officers, and 429 Rank and File, Priſoners. Eighty-three Horſes killed, 30 wounded, and 50 miſſing.

Artillery. One Piece of Cannon, 14 Ammunition Waggons, loſt; 47 Horſes killed; and 3 miſſing.

Hague, October 28. Our laſt Letters from the Country of Heſſe, which are of the 25th Inſtant, bring no News of Conſequence from thence. Prince Ferdinand remained in his Head-quarters at Ovelgunne, as Marſhal Broglio did in his near Caſſel: And his Serene Highneſs had reinforced the Troops, commanded by General Wangenheim; and Marſhal Broglio thoſe under the Prince of Saxony: Both which Corps are on the other Side of the Weſer.

The Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick has left Brunyen, and marched on the 26th to Schermbeck, and on the 27th to Limbeck. In the mean while, the French Troops, under M. de Caſtries, continue on the Left Side of the Rhine, and the Garriſon of Weſel is conſiderably reinforced.

The Ruſſians, it is ſaid, are on their March towards Poſen, in order to take their Winter-quarters there; and the Swedes have repaſſed the River Peene. [Thus far the Gazette.]

LONDON, October 25.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Duke Man of War, in Quiberon Bay, October 11.

"Notwithſtanding our Diligence in watching the Tranſports and Merchant Ships, which are in the Harbour of Morbieu, we are afraid it will be but to little Purpoſe, as three or four of them are lately come out under Spaniſh Colours, with falſe Paſſes; and in the preſent Situation of Things we could not moleſt them.

"We have Intelligence that there are five Ships of the Line, and three Frigates, fitting out at Breſt.

"The French Ships of War in the River Villaine have not yet found an Opportunity of getting out, being narrowly watched by the Edgar, Prince Frederick, Bedford, and Intrepide."

October 28. On Sunday Noon laſt Orders were ſent from the War Office to adminiſter the Oaths to the Troops at Portſmouth, deſtined for the intended Expedition.

On Sunday the Body of his late moſt excellent Majeſty was embowelled, and the Royal Corpſe embalmed.

It was his earneſt Wiſh, that he might live to ſee a happy Termination of the jarring Troubles and wide ſpread Carnage of War; for the Monarch that could weep at the ſingle Fall of a WOLFE, in the Exultation of Succeſs, could not but proportionably feel Affliction, for its more complicated Miſeries nearer Home, in which ſuch Numbers were involved; but unerring Providence judged proper to give his Majeſty another Kind of Peace and Repoſe, for which it was his conſtant Endeavour to prepare, by Acts of Mercy, Juſtice, and Devotion.

His Majeſty, as a Man, inherited all thoſe Virtues which would have adorned the moſt amiable Character in private Life; as a Prince, he enjoyed all thoſe royal Qualities, which whilſt they reflected Honour on his own Dignity, may be ſaid to have formed a Pattern for the Imitation of every other King. The Splendor with which his Sun has ſet, the glorious Fruits which his foſtering Care has produced, together with his Zeal and Succeſs for the Welfare and Liberties of Mankind, and that diſtinguiſhed Mercy with which all his Acts were tempered, will be a copious and laſting Theme for the Exerciſe of future Hiſtorians.

Letters from Smyrna adviſe, that three Engliſh Ships of the Line, of 74, 64, and 60 Guns, had appeared off the Iſle of Milo, and that three other Men of War of the ſame Nation, and of the ſame Rates, had ſteered towards the Coaſt of Syria, in queſt of a French Squadron, cruizing in the Archipelago.

According to Letters from Weſel, the French Regiment of Alſace, Infantry, had 52 Officers killed or wounded in the Action of the 16th, with the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick.

According to ſome Letters from Paris, the French King has acceded to a Treaty lately concluded between the Courts of Peterſburgh and Vienna, whereby the Houſe of Auſtria Guaranties the Poſſeſſion of the Kingdom of Pruſſia to the Ruſſian Empire.

October 30. They write from Brandenburgh, that a great Number of the Inhabitants of Berlin, and its Neighbourhood, had fled with their beſt moveable Effects to Hamburgh, on the Approach of the combined Troops of Auſtria and Ruſſia.

Before the King of Pruſſia left Sileſia he put ſtrong Garriſons into Schweidnitz and Breſlau; and Marſhal Daun has left 20,000 Men, under General Laudohn, on the Side of Schweidnitz.

November 1. The natural and apparent Solidity of the new King's Judgment, his ſedate and manly Diſpoſition, his Love of Juſtice, his Hatred of Flattery, and his Inclination for Buſineſs, which ſufficiently appears already by his cloſe Application to it, together with the ſtrict Harmony ſubſiſting among the Miniſtry, are ſure Preſages of our being a happy and flouriſhing Nation under his preſent Majeſty King George the Third; and will, in ſome Meaſure alleviate our great Concern for the Loſs of our late moſt glorious Monarch.

A Ship is arrived at Lynn from the Baltic, which brings an Account, that they have had very ſtormy Weather in thoſe Seas; in which the Lyme Man of War had foundered, and was loſt in the Cattegut; the Captain and his Lady were both ſaved, but about 50 of the Crew periſhed.

The following is the Subſtance of the Capitulation of Torgau. "Major General de Nordman, two Colonels under him, all the recovered Soldiers, and all the Garriſon, to be Priſoners of War: The Soldiers to keep their Baggage: The Proviſion, Ammunition, Artillery, the military Cheſt, and in general all that belonged to the King, to be delivered faithfully, and in good Condition, to the Commiſſaries of the Army of the Empire, &c.

Letters from Liſbon, which arrived on Thurſday laſt by that Mail, bring Advice, that they had an Account by a Man of War which was arrived there from the Eaſt-Indies, that the Jeſuits had made themſelves Maſters of the Portugueſe Settlements of Goa.

A Liſt has been made at Philipſburgh, whereby it appears that the Allies have made 11000 French Priſoners this Campaign, excluſive of the Light Troops.

November 4. It is ſaid that the King of Denmark has ſignified to the Ruſſian Generals, that if they don't quit Germany he will declare War againſt them.

In the late Action of Campen, the Hereditary Prince received a ſmall Contuſion, and had a Horſe killed under him; and the Lord Lenox received a ſlight Wound. The Cavalry in general behaved in a ſurprizing Manner.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, Nov. 2.

"On Thurſday laſt his Majeſty's Ships Lyon, Rippon, and Solebay, arrived at Spithead, with the Tranſports, &c. There are above 100 large Tranſports, all for our intended Expedition. They are working into the Harbour to take in the Military Stores, &c. which are indeed prodigious.

"At Spithead Admiral Durell, with 28 Men of War."

We hear, that on the Death of the King, all his Horſes, Coaches, &c. come to the Maſter of the Horſe; and the Furniture of his Palaces to the Lord Chamberlain; and that in Lieu thereof 10,000 l. is given to the Maſter of the Horſe, and 30,000 l. to the Lord Chamberlain.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, October 14.

"As the French Privateers continue to aſſume great Liberties in the Seas of Zealand, and carry in a great Number of Engliſh Veſſels, the States of Zealand have complained of it to the States General, as their Navigation and Trade is thereby obſtructed. A Copy of theſe Complaints hath, by Order of their High Mightineſſes, been delivered to the Count d'Affry, who was at the ſame Time deſired to uſe his good Offices that Orders might be ſent to the French Privateers not to frequent thoſe Seas; and another Copy hath been ſent to our Ambaſſador at Paris."

An Expreſs is arrived, with the agreeable News, that the King of Pruſſia hath retaken Leipſic, and Wittemberg; and thereby recovered the heavy Artillery in the former of thoſe Towns.

On the Acceſſion of our late Sovereign, there were Addreſſes preſented to his Majeſty by the Parliament, the Mayor and Aldermen, the Common Council, Merchants and Traders of London, the two Univerſities, the Clergy of London and Weſtminſter, the Lieutenancy of London, the Proteſtant Diſſenters, the People called Quakers, the French Refugees, the Royal Society, the Miniſters and Elders of the French and Dutch Churches, Lord Provoſt and Council of Edinburgh, the Univerſities of Edinburgh, Glaſgow and Aberdeen, the Common Council of Dublin, the Univerſity of Dublin, and the Roman Catholicks of Ireland.

Portſmouth, Nov. 3. The Expedition is going on with the greateſt Alacrity. The Tranſports arrived on the 29th ult. and we are to ſail by the End of the Week at furtheſt.

Edinburgh, October 29. Laſt Night one of his Majeſty's Meſſengers arrived with the melancholy News of his late Majeſty's Death, and with the Orders of the Privy Council, directed to his Majeſty's Advocate, for proclaiming his preſent Majeſty. Upon Receipt whereof his Majeſty's Advocate gave immediate Notice thereof to the Lord Provoſt of this City, and to the Lord High Sheriff of this County, and ſent to them the Copies of the Proclamation of his preſent Majeſty, with Orders to cauſe the ſame to be proclaimed with all poſſible Diligence. His Lordſhip, at the ſame Time, diſpatched Expreſſes to all the Sheriffs of Scotland with the Proclamations, and Orders to proclaim the ſame.

Accordingly his Majeſty has been proclaimed here with the cuſtomary Solemnity, at the New Exchange, the Caſtle-Gate, and the Abbey of Holyrood Houſe. Each of which Proclamations were made under a Diſcharge of the Artillery in the Caſtle, and the Small-Arms of his Majeſty's Troops, amidſt the univerſal Acclamations of a great Concourſe of the Inhabitants.

NEW-YORK, January 5.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated November 3, 1760.

"The Affair of the Grand Expedition Fleet is now the only Topic, as its Deſtination has not yet tranſpired; ſome ſay one Place, and ſome another; and others are of Opinion 'twas only ſet on Foot with a View to deter the French from ſending Succours to M. Broglio, which he had ſolicited for; however, a little Time will unravel the Myſtery."

ANNAPOLIS, January 22.

Since our laſt, Capt. Patten, in a Schooner from Boſton, appeared in the Bay off the Town, and with ſome Difficulty (there yet remaining a good deal of Ice) got aſhore. The Captain informs us, That he ſaw the General Wall Packet, Captain Lutwyche, in Tarpaulin Cove on Martha's Vineyard, on the 26th of December. She left Falmouth on the 9th of November, and brought Accounts of the Death of his late Majeſty, as heretofore publiſhed in this Paper.

Capt. Preſcot, Aid de Camp to General AMHERST, came in the Packet, and is arrived at New-York.

Neither the Northern nor Southern Poſts are yet come in; it's probable the Weather, which for three Weeks paſt has been pretty ſevere, has retarded them.

"On Thurſday the 8th Inſtant, after a ſhort Illneſs, "Died Mrs. SARAH LETTICE FENDALL, Wife of Mr. "PHILIP RICHARD FENDALL, Clerk of Charles County: "A very ſtriking Example of the great Uncertainty of all "human Procurements, with what Zeal and Eagerneſs ſo-"ever we purſue them, or Fondneſs we poſſeſs them with!

"She was a Lady very worthy our high Expectations, "had GOD been pleaſed to allow her length of Time to "fulfil them in; but, being cut off in almoſt the Bloom of "Youth, and too too ſoon from her happy Nuptials, ſhe had "but little Opportunity for diſplaying, to ſo full an Extent, "that high Pitch of Merit, in the Character of Wife, which "was juſtly aſcribed her in her Maiden Condition.

"Her Fate was ſudden and unexpected; and ſhe has, "therefore the more, left behind her a diſconſolate Huſ-"band, moſt mournful Relations, and condoling Acquain-"tance.——But her Memory is ſo grateful, that it ought "to ſet Bounds to our Sorrow, and to mitigate all Uneaſi-"neſs on Account of her Loſs."

WHEREAS the Act of Aſſembly of this Province, made and paſſed in 1733, for emitting and making current Ninety Thouſand Pounds, is near Expiring; The Commiſſioners of the Loan Office therefore think it their Duty, to inform all thoſe who have any Bonds in that Office, to come and diſcharge the ſame; otherwiſe they will be proceeded againſt as the Law directs.

Signed per Order,
ROBERT COUDEN, Cl. P. C. Office.
